FuturesFundamentals

Our industry is joining forces to educate learners of all levels.

Futures Fundamentals is a one-stop educational resource designed to simplify and explain complex market topics. Through interactive features and rich content, the website explains the role of futures markets in everyday life and provides information on the derivatives industry. Futures Fundamentals is the driving force in an industry-wide effort to provide risk management education to learners at all levels.

This collaborative educational resource is made possible by a number of contributing organizations across the futures industry. NFA, CME Group, FIA, and the Institute for Financial Markets (IFM) have come together in an effort to provide investors with the industry's leading tools, knowledge and resources.

Futures Fundamentals offers articles, videos and interactive infographics explaining the world of futures that can be essential resources for educators and their students looking to better understand the industry and its impact on the world economy. These materials are available online.
